Stave Boxes

A couple years ago I worked with a few other GTW members to attempt to make stave boxes for Beads of Courage. We were successful, but there were a few steps which did not work very well. In fact, at one point when I was cutting a recess, the box flew off the lathe and cut John Beasley's hand. (I think he has forgiven me by now.) Furthermore, the whole process took much more time than we anticipated. More recently, David Hoenig, Mike Zunkowski and I visited Jonathan Searles, a member of the Dallas Area Woodturners club, who showed us how to make stave boxes safely. Since then, David and I have been cutting out staves, making boxes and adding a few of our own ideas to the process.

I plan to demonstrate how to turn stave boxes. The staves are cut to size and routed with a bird's mouth bit so they fit together to form a 12 sided box. I will talk about how to cut, router and glue the staves. Then I will demonstrate how to safely turn the box and add the base and top.

David and I prepared a few sets of staves that we will hand out to members after the demonstration. We ask for the finished boxes to be brought back to a future meeting so they can be donated to the Beads of Courage Program.

Sand Paper Organizer for Sale $20 Donation

There are a few ways that the GTW club can generate monies for operations. We charge a small yearly dues and we have raffles. This helps us to bring people in to do demo's and to have open shops. The money collected at the demonstrations we do like Roanoke and Denton Jazz Festival only pay for the materials for the cars we hand out.

John Beasley has designed and made a number of Sand Paper organizers for the club. This is to help the club generate more money for the year and provide you with a product. These are a great way to get your shop organized. I for one have bought one for my lathe area and love it. First time I can look up and see if I need to get more paper before starting a project. I am more prepared to finish now and it makes working in my shop so much more fun. I will be buying a second for another area of my shop. These make a great gift for other wood workers. Support the club and get your sand paper organizer.
