Marion McDaniel was born in Georgia, moved to Texas 59 years ago and now lives near White Rock Lake in Dallas. Marion started woodturning after he was forced to retire, from 25 years at Kroger, after suffering an on the job back injury. After watching his 1st woodturning demonstration he was hooked and the rest was history. He has simultaneously belonged to more than a dozen woodturning clubs and has served on the SWAT board of directors for the past 18 years. Demonstrating his woodturning skills at SWAT and virtually every club around, Marion is best known for his snowmen – completing more than 6,000.
